A Production of Basketball Immersion

Company Overview

Whatever your current level of coaching, Basketball Immersion wants to help you improve. We want to provide you an opportunity to engage and learn deeply. It is a one-stop website dedicated to all aspects of playing and teaching the game of basketball. Most information is presented in video form so that it is easy to understand and learn.

Long Description

Basketball Immersion was founded in 2014 by Chris Oliver. The website is a focused on the goal of sharing everything he has gained from 20+ years of immersing himself in playing, learning and coaching basketball. Everything he has learned will be progressively available and shared on the site.

The website covers a range of basketball topics: Offense, Defense, Skills, Philosophy and Sport Sciences. This information combines many basketball ideas influenced by many sports coaches and researchers from many different fields of study. The goal beyond sharing knowledge is to build a community for coaches and players to ask questions and receive feedback and advice that can help grow knowledge about the game. Basketball Immersion is a one-stop website dedicated to all aspects of playing and teaching the game of basketball. Most information is presented in video form so that it is easy to understand and learn. The website is for basketball and players, male and female, volunteers and professionals, full-time and part-time, who are open-minded about their training methods and have a passion to learn.
